Glaisyers Missed Flood. Letters received from County Agriculturist H. Roland Glaisyer and wife show they were not in Moro at the time of the cloudburst Friday night. The Glaisyers were in Moro a few days last week, attending the meeting of Eastern Oregon county agriculturists, and it was feared that they might have been caught in the downpour.

The Chilcote agency is the home of the Alina companies.

Citizenship Needs Told by Pulpit Over Nation

towns, located in forty-five states of the Union, the public school authorities, in co-operation with the bureau of naturalization of the United States Department of labor, established evening schools for the instruction of their foreign-born population. In all of these cities and towns the intention is to reopen the night schools at the beginning of the fall term. Advice has been received from other places where, for one reason or another, they have as yet been unable to join in this movement, that the public school authorities have determined to open night schools for alien instruction at the beginning of the next scholastic year.

Great results have already been accomplished and greater are expected. The bureau of naturalization since the 1st of last October has sent the names of approximately 200,000 candidates for citizenship and their wives to the public school authorities of the country. It has also sent personal letters to all of these to induce them to enter the public schools. It has prepared an outline course in citizenship, thousands of copies of which have been sent to public school teachers. It has also prepared a syllabus of the naturalization law, which it has sent out, with copies of preliminary naturalization forms, to aid teachers in the instruction of candidates for citizenship. The co-operation of the public schools with the national government has come to stay, and the next scholastic year will show a tremendous increase all over the country.

The bureau of naturalization has perfected its plan for a citizenship convention of the public school teachers, superintendents and other prominent educators of the United States, which will be held in Washington during the week beginning July 10th for the purpose of exhibiting the results of the work of the foreigners in the night schools throughout the country and formulating a complete course of citizenship instruction, based upon the outline course and upon the studies and experiences of the public school teachers. A large and representative attendance is assured.
